

Indiana University - University of Oregon – Université Cheikh Anta Diop
SUMMER STUDY ABROAD IN DAKAR, SENEGAL
June 25 – July 30, 2011

Study Site

- Dakar is a multi-cultural, multi-lingual metropolis on the west coast of Africa surrounded by the Atlantic Ocean. It is also the political, cultural, and economic capital of Senegal and the former capital of French West Africa. French is the official language, Wolof is the lingua franca.
- The program is hosted by the University Cheikh Anta Diop School of Education
- Students are housed in an apartment or bungalow-style house on campus

Academics

- Seminar on Society, Culture, and Politics of West Africa with guest lectures by local scholars and artists (3 cr); excursions to religious and cultural sites
- Introduction to the Wolof Language (2 cr)
- Field Practicum (2 cr) in Dakar-based organizations

Prerequisites

- Two semesters of college-level French required; four semesters recommended
- One Africa-focused and/or one relevant anthropology course strongly recommended

Resident Program Director: Professor Maria Grosz-Ngaté,
African Studies Program, Indiana University
Co-Director: Professor Babacar Fall, History, Université Cheikh Anta Diop

Application Deadline: February 14, 2011

For additional details and application materials, visit:

<http://www.indiana.edu/~overseas/flyers/dakar.html>.

For questions about the program, contact:

Dr. Maria Grosz-Ngaté, African Studies Program, mgrosz@indiana.edu or 812/855-5081